

Discover Your Destiny:

Finding and Living Your Unique Life Purpose

Searching for “Markings”

Words have the power to create something from nothing. I believe that God has already spoken something to you that defines and establishes your destiny. We call these “markings”.

Our Creator loves to speak to us, and He has many different ways to reveal to you His purpose for your life:

1. The Bible. Have you ever read something in the Bible and the words seemed to leap off the page and penetrate your heart? In these instances, such scriptures may be an indicator of your “marking” of your purpose.

What specific scriptures or quotes do you hold near and dear to you; those markings that might be speaking of your purpose?

2. Personal Revelation. During times of prayer, meditation, and simply being still, a “knowing” can come to you, bringing clarity and direction concerning your destiny. This personal revelation may come through “hearing” God’s voice. Revelation may also come through a dream or vision that helps you to see a piece of your destiny.

What specific personal revelation have you received concerning your purpose and destiny? Did this come through “hearing” His voice, or through a dream or vision?

Assignment #2

3. Prophetic Voices. In some form or another, we have all received prophetic voices from others in our life. Perhaps when you were young, your mother told you that you have a natural talent for math and science. Or perhaps your friend has told you many times, "You should think of starting a business... you are so good at this!" If so, this may be a significant clue to understanding your purpose and destiny.

What prophetic voices concerning you have you heard in your lifetime?

What might these prophetic "markings" indicate about your destiny?
